For the Love of writing

We are pleased to announce the release of Sacred Choices, best-selling author Karen Hulene Bartell's most recent novel.

Honestly and intimately, Sacred Choices explores both sides of abortion, within an inspirational love story. It weaves together the lives of three resilient women—and an angel. Ceren is a newly-married and pregnant professor, who learns her husband is a bigamist who urges abortion. Judith, Ceren's colleague—an older, worldlier professor, and pro-choice advocate—provides counsel based on her experiences. Judith's sister Pastora, a nun, provides the voice of reason. Written for, by, and about women who have had or are considering abortions, Sacred Choices is Ceren's journey—from her positive pregnancy test, through her decision whether or not to have an abortion—to an uncanny conclusion.

Ms. Bartell is a deft writer who vividly captures the joy, angst, pain, and hope within her characters, allowing readers to explore their own feelings and beliefs. Thought-provoking by itself, Sacred Choices includes an in-depth study guide, as well as two authentic Mexican recipes. A companion volume is in the works.

We would be most grateful if you would consider reading and reviewing the book. You may download a PDF copy at the link below, or we can ship a hard copy to you.
